allure
Completely different from the DR. PAPA® brand, HighOnLove™ was designed to empower women to explore and embrace their sensual side. She focused more on creating a brand with opulent bottle designs that bring heightened style and luxury to the discerning woman who knows what she wants in the bedroom.
Angela put a lot of heart in making this high-end product line, "I made sure to do my research and look all around the world, making sure I was using the best ingredients for my oils and gels as it is being used in many different intimate areas. I also went all out in the packaging because I wanted to deliver something stunning and elegant. A product you want to show off on your nightstand!"
This sensuous fusion of superior grade all-natural ingredients was made to awaken the senses, redefine intimacy and revolutionize the way you love. HighOnLove™ offers luxurious sensual bath oils, sensual massage oils, dark chocolate body paint, and the two most popular; stimulating orgasm oil and stimulating orgasm gel. The product line is well-known to be transformative for those experiencing vaginal dryness, discomfort, and a decreased libido.

Events

We can't resist a party! This past year, HighOnLove® hosted several major events in the pleasure and cannabis spaces, helping to propel the brand forward in new markets. Harnessing the buzz of media, influencers and industry leaders, these events are a key part of our public relations strategy for global growth.

PLAYBOY FRANCE PARTIES

HighOnLove® recently sponsored two exclusive Playboy France events in Paris to boost brand exposure and network connections within the European market: In March 2023, to celebrate Playboy France's 50th anniversary, and in April 2023, marking the launch of the magazine's latest issue.

MARIJUANA MANSION

In February 2023, three new HighOnLove® products – the THC Dark Chocolate Body Paint, THC Sensual Bath & Body Oil, and 3.5g Sensual Flower – made a glamorous debut at the famed Marijuana Mansion in Denver, Colorado. The city's top cannabis tastemakers, dispensary owners and buyers were invited to elevate their senses at the invite-only sensual soirée.

From Paris, with HighOnLove

The Celebration Collection was unveiled at an exclusive pop-up event in Paris from February 1st to February 4th, 2024. Attendees were treated to a firsthand look, discovering the blend of luxury and technology that defines this limited-edition gift set. Just in time for Valentine's Day, it was the ideal opportunity to introduce HighOnLove to the Parisian market, and an onsite product engraving service added a personalized touch to the soirée.

A Galentine's Affair

A bright and airy loft in historic Old Montreal was the venue for an intimate HighOnLove Valentine's Day event for editors and influencers. The gathering was an ideal opportunity to present the latest HighOnLove product launches, including the Celebration Collection and the new Sensual Bath Salts, to local and regional media. Valentine's Day bestsellers such as the Dark Chocolate Body Paint and plumping Lip Gloss were also displayed for trial, with plenty of goodies to go around. This "Galentine's Day" event was one to remember.
